Today, Special Commissioner of Investigation Richard J. Condon released a report detailing an investigation which found that Malik Taylor, 31, who was a community associate and dean assigned to the Business of Sports School in Manhattan, had sexual relationships with four female students from the school, including a 16-year-old. Taylor also sexually harassed four additional female students at the school. The sexual encounters took place in classrooms at the Business of Sports School and at motels in Manhattan, at a motel and in Taylor's car in the Bronx, at a motel and in Taylor's car in Brooklyn, and in Taylor's car in Mount Vernon in Westchester County.

Taylor resigned from his position shortly after a complaint was lodged against him. He is not eligible for employment with the City school system. In addition to the Chancellor, the Special Commissioner referred the findings to New York County District Attorney Cyrus R. Vance, Jr. and to Kings County District Attorney Charles J. Hynes.

The Office of the Special Commissioner of Investigation is part of the New York City Department of Investigation and Special Commissioner Condon reports to Commissioner Rose Gill Hearn.
